

THE TIMES AND TRAVELS OF HUGH TEMPLETON

by L. Duane Brown

THE EXCITING STORY OF A YOUNG SCOTSMAN'S SEARCH IN 1841 FOR LOVE, LIFE AND LIBERTY IN AMERICA

Hugh travels from Dunlop, Scotland to Ulster, PA in 1841 on the Gondola, a wooden sailing ship, the steamship Clermont, and a packet boat up New York's Erie Canal.

Part I - An overview of Hugh Templeton's life with an introduction, itinerary documents and pictures of Scotland. The author is Dr. L. Duane Brown, who is Hugh's great, great grandson. Also included is THE LETTER Hugh sent back to Scotland in 1848.

Templeton family home for 200 years in Dunlop, Scotland. Built in 1641 and located on the castle estate, Hugh was born and raised in this home

Hugh Templeton's passport picture taken in NYC in 1841 upon his arrival from Scotland

Part II - This section features an historic novel based on the facts available. Follow his adventures as Hugh flees from the obnoxious Scottish Laird (Lord) of Aiket Castle. Rejoice with Hugh as he learns new experiences in his new homeland. See how Hugh found

- (1) LIBERTY in the American way of life;
- (2) LIFE as a farmer of the rich soil of Pennsylvania; and
- (3) LOVE when he married the lovely Marion Richie in 1842.

Part III - Genealogy charts of Hugh and Marion Templeton's descendants researched by Phyllis Brown Shipman, Hugh's great, great granddaughter.

Order this delightful three-part e-book for $5.00. Publication is expected in Fall 2016.
Order through: www.drbrownbooks.com; ldbrown4@juno.com; pesorent@gmail.com